Energize Your Future

Want to continue your education
without going to college?

Want to earn more than $84,000* a year?

A career as an electrician is one of the best paying careers in the market today. And you get to work on cool projects like stadiums and high-tech office buildings.

The electrical apprenticeship programs are 3 or 5 years and won't leave you with student loans. Best of all, you get pay and benefits from the day you begin classes.
